

Reserve a FREE
Tour Today

Connecting People to Art Since 1931

Image Courtesy of Scott Cantner

Discover Hagerstown

Begin with a stop at the Washington County Museum of Fine Arts to explore HENSE: Paintings and Wall Collage by Alex Brewer, on display October 21, 2017 - January 14, 2018. The Museum is open six days a week, offers FREE admission, and provides barrier-free access to its notable art collections, exhibitions and educational programs, events, and concerts. Contemporary artist Alex Brewer, also known as HENSE, is best known for dynamic and colorful abstract painting and monumental wall pieces. Active since the 1990s, Brewer is an established artist with commissions nationally and internationally. In the summer of 2017, Brewer as HENSE, completed a commissioned building mural along Hagerstown's Cultural Arts Trail. The Museum is pleased to celebrate the culmination of this mural project with this site-specific installation.

Discovery Station at Hagerstown creates exciting hands-on learning experiences that stimulate a curiosity for discovery, exploration, and further investigation by children and adults to foster life-long learning. The programs and interactive exhibits on science, technology, health and history are unique educational resources. Discovery Station at Hagerstown has been acclaimed by the community, the media, and its diverse visitors as an outstanding example of an interactive museum that serves people of all ages and interests. The Museum is a short walk to the Hagerstown Cultural Trail. Visit their web site, <http://discoverystation.org>, for more information.

Courtesy of Brookgreen Gardens

The Hagerstown Cultural Trail is a multi-use trail that links City Park and the Washington County Museum of Fine Arts with the Arts and Entertainment District.

The Hagerstown Cultural Trail is one of eight catalyst projects included in the Community's City Center Plan, the 10-year roadmap for downtown development. Stroll along the half-mile brick paver trail that connects the downtown Arts & Entertainment District with Hagerstown City Park. The trail opened June 17, 2017 and features sculptures, murals, and photography. Visit <http://www.hagerstownculturaltrail.com> for more information.

